

inbox

The smartest way to discover research

Feed your investment ideas with a curated research experience across internal and external research reports, corporate access events and analyst models. The Visible Alpha Inbox unifies this content in a web-based platform for ease of discoverability, consumption and collaboration with peers, while maintaining a MiFID II compliant tracking framework.

Uncover investment ideas with a powerful research content search engine.

Inbox at-a-glance:

- 110+ brokers contributing full working models
- 190+ brokers contributing research
- 120+ brokers contributing corporate access events

What can you do with Inbox?

Aggregate, organize and store all internal and external research

Enable intelligent search across research, models, events, analysts and more

Surface and collaborate on investment ideas

Manage access to entitled research providers on a company, team and/or user-level

Research Management System (RMS)*

The Visible Alpha RMS is available as an add-on to the Inbox. Key functionality enables you to:

- Control access to research via one portal
- Manage entitlements across all research providers
- Comment on research and share with specific teams, individuals or company-wide
- Upload, tag and rate internal research
- Save research to your personal briefcase
- Search internal and external research in your unique comingled environment based on preferences
- Coming Soon - Access to the Research Marketplace

Coming Soon Research Marketplace

From within the Inbox environment, discover and purchase access to research from any provider on an a la carte or subscription-basis in a MiFID II compliant fashion.

Research content available:

- Downloadable Research Reports
- Downloadable Analyst Models
- Scheduling and Fulfillment of Analyst Calls, Events and Other Corporate Access

Payment for research content is available via pay per view, subscription, per analyst hour and is specified in line with the research content description.

About Visible Alpha

Since Visible Alpha's commercial launch in February 2017, the company has been helping investment firms of all sizes and geographies discover ideas through its deep consensus platform and track and value research for MiFID II compliance. Visible Alpha creates a unified consumption and collaboration experience across research reports, analyst models and corporate access events and enables clients to discover, track, budget, value and pay for research content. Visible Alpha has a growing client base with $16 trillion in AUM, more than 450 banks contributing content, and over 350 employees globally. The company is backed by some of the largest banks in the world, including Bank of America Merrill Lynch, Citi, Jefferies, Morgan Stanley, and UBS.

* Add-on functionality

 Additional costs apply to gain access to unentitled research provider content

Contact us

visiblealpha.com | info@visiblealpha.com